Highlights – The SJB Group DBE Supportive staff Kenyatta Sparks and Jackie des Bordes held another successful Breakfast Social meeting with Mr. Travis Williams and Mrs. Karen Williams III with NOLA Steele Fabrication & Erection. The purpose of the meeting was to provide pertinent information about the DBE Supportive Services Program and the services available to their company, at no cost. After discussing with Mr. and Mrs. Williams in more detail about the types of needs their company has, DBESS provided them with a copy of both their Directory of Contractors Booklet and Directory of Engineers Booklet, so they can begin contacting the firms that they would like to provide services to and recommended that they add more work item codes to their DBE Certification. DBESS also provided them with the contact information for Ms. Kandy Fly, LA DOTD DBE/SBE Certification Program Specialist, so they could get assistance with obtaining their SBE Certification. An estimating and bidding one-on-one session will be schedule with them for next month.

We thank Mr. and Mrs. Williams for taking time out of their busy schedules to meet with us here at SJB Group and look forward to assisting them in the future business endeavors of their firm.

If you are interested in attending our Breakfast Social Discussion meeting, please call Mr. Sparks at (225) 769-3400. These meetings are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:30 am to 11:30 am, at the SJB Group Office, 5745 Essen Lane, Suite 200, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Seasonal Flu

Worker Guidance

Precautions For All Workers during Flu Season

This guidance provides baseline infection control procedures for seasonal flu. As new information about the current seasonal flu virus becomes available, this workplace guidance will be reevaluated and updated. Employers should ensure that they have the most up-to-date information when making decisions about their current operations and planning.

Flu IQ

The best way to reduce your risk of exposure to the flu virus in your workplace is to use the basic hygiene precautions listed below and to avoid close contact with ill people. If your job involves contact with patients or other healthcare services, then you may need to take additional precautions. Precautions for healthcare workers are addressed separately.

Pandemic flu remains a concern for workers and employers. A pandemic can occur at any time and can be mild, moderate, or severe. The pandemic in 2009 was considered by HHS/CDC to be mild but it still created challenges for employers and showed that many workplaces were not prepared. The precautions identified in this guidance provide a baseline for workplace precautions during a seasonal flu outbreak, but they may not be enough to protect you during a pandemic. Your employer's pandemic flu plan should be based on a "worst-case" scenario – one in which the virus causes severe illness and death in larger numbers of people. Planning for the worst-case ensures that employers will have the right type of equipment and enough of it on hand to protect you. It also ensures that employers have planned for additional control options so that they can pick the right combination for the specific pandemic flu virus. You may have additional planning considerations too. For example, you may need to think about what you'll do if schools and daycare facilities are closed. For additional information on pandemic flu planning, see How to Protect Yourself in the Workplace during a Pandemic and the planning resources for the community on Flu.gov.

Protecting Yourself During Flu Season

Get vaccinated. Vaccination is the most important way to prevent the spread of the flu. For additional information about seasonal flu vaccine priorities, see Key Facts About Seasonal Flu Vaccine.

Stay at home if you are sick. The HHS/CDC recommends that workers who have a fever and respiratory symptoms stay at home until 24 hours after their fever ends (100 degrees Fahrenheit [37.8 degrees Celsius] or lower), without the use of medication. Not everyone who has the flu will have a fever. Other symptoms could include a runny nose, body aches, headache, tiredness, diarrhea, or vomiting.

Wash your hands frequently with soap and water for 20 seconds; use an alcohol-based hand rub if soap and water are not available.

Avoid touching your nose, mouth, and eyes.

Cover your coughs and sneezes with a tissue, or cough and sneeze into your upper sleeve(s). Throw tissues into a "no-touch" wastebasket.

OSHA Safety Article.....

Clean your hands after coughing, sneezing, or blowing your nose.

When using soap and water, rub soapy hands together for at least 20 seconds, rinse hands with water, and dry completely.

If soap and water are not available, use of an alcohol-based hand rub is a helpful interim measure until hand washing is possible.

When using an alcohol-based hand rub, apply liquid to palm of hand, cover all surfaces of the hands with the liquid, and rub hands together until dry.

Keep frequently touched common surfaces (e.g., telephones, computer equipment, etc.) clean.

Try not to use a coworker's phone, desk, office, computer, or other work tools and equipment. If you must use a coworker's equipment, consider cleaning it first with a disinfectant.

Avoid shaking hands or coming in close contact with coworkers and others who may be ill.

Stay in shape. Eat a healthy diet. Get plenty of rest, exercise, and relaxation.

Speak with your doctor and find out if you are in a high risk category for seasonal flu (e.g., pregnant women, persons with asthma, etc.).

Participate in any training offered by your employer. Make sure that you understand how to stay healthy at work.

This guidance is advisory in nature and informational in content. It is not a standard or regulation, and it neither creates new legal obligations nor alters existing obligations created by OSHA standards or the Occupational Safety and Health Act. Pursuant to the OSH Act, employers must comply with safety and health standards and regulations issued and enforced either by OSHA or by an OSHA-approved State Plan. In addition, the Act's General Duty Clause, Section 5(a)(1), requires employers to provide their employees with a workplace free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm.

What can SJB Group do for You?

SJB Group, LLC can provide free assistance to certified LADOT DBE firms in the following areas:

SJB Group can assist you by: preparing company business cards, profile sheets, and providing information on recommended target areas for your marketing efforts.

By acting as a liaison between the DBE Contractor and Prime Contractor for project information, and in problems occurring on the jobsite.

By informing of upcoming LADOT lettings, and project information for other agencies throughout the state. SJB can assist you in locating bid tabulation information as well.

By providing assistance and guidance on material takeoffs, bid preparation and estimating, project scheduling, and planning for projects that DBE firms are bidding or plan to bid in the near future.

By helping with office computer operations to include trouble-shooting problems, Internet access and software installation, and basic to technical computer training.

By assisting in financial areas such as loan and bond package preparations, company financial statements, business plan preparation, and SBA 8(a) and Hub-Zone certification packages.
